

There are no new environmental issues to report.